A lone hacker immersed in glowing code, surrounded by holographic screens in a darkened room, reflecting the loneliness of a digital world.

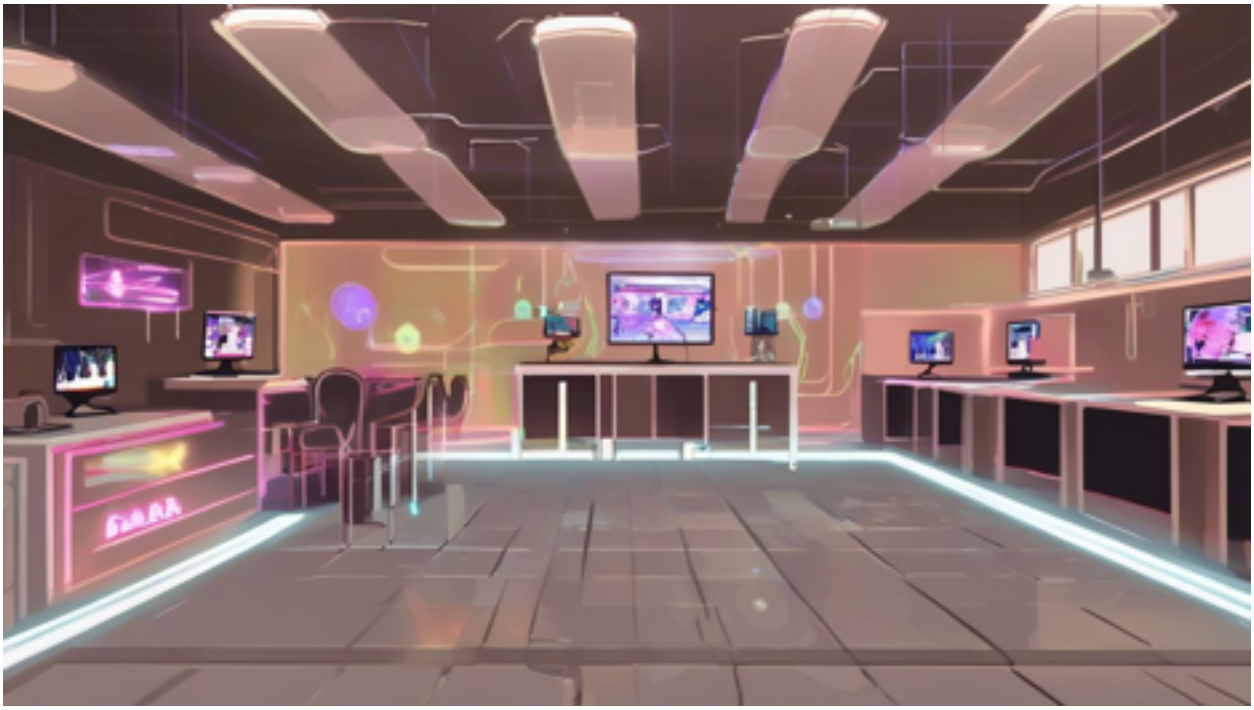
A solitary woman walking through a neon-lit alley, the vibrant colors contrasting with her somber expression as holograms of smiling faces flicker around her.

Page 3



An empty cyber café with scattered holographic projectors, where patrons engage with virtual companions but the atmosphere is filled with a palpable sense of disconnection.

A view from a high-rise window, where a figure stands silhouetted against the city's chaotic neon landscape, the vastness of the metropolis amplifying their solitude.

An overgrown rooftop garden amidst towering skyscrapers, where a single person tends to forgotten plants, symbolizing the struggle to find connection in a concrete jungle.
